PART A—Copyright Transfer Form

The undersigned, desiring to publish the above article/paper in a publication of the American Association for Artificial Intelligence, (AAAI), hereby transfer their copyrights in the above article/paper to the American Association for Artificial Intelligence (AAAI), in order to deal with future requests for reprints, translations, anthologies, reproductions, excerpts, and other publications.

This grant will include, without limitation, the entire copyright in the article/paper in all countries of the world, including all renewals, extensions, and reversions thereof, whether such rights current exist or hereafter come into effect, and also the exclusive right to create electronic versions of the article/paper, to the extent that such right is not subsumed under copyright.

The undersigned warrants that they are the sole author and owner of the copyright in the above article/paper, except for those portions shown to be in quotations; that the article/paper is original throughout; and that the undersigned right to make the grants set forth above is complete and unencumbered.

If anyone brings any claim or action alleging facts that, if true, constitute a breach of any of the foregoing warranties, the undersigned will hold harmless and indemnify AAAI, their grantees, their licensees, and their distributors against any liability, whether under judgment, decree, or compromise, and any legal fees and expenses arising out of that claim or actions, and the undersigned will cooperate fully in any defense AAAI may make to such claim or action. Moreover, the undersigned agrees to cooperate in any claim or other action seeking to protect or enforce any right the undersigned has granted to AAAI in the article/paper. If any such claim or action fails because of facts that constitute a breach of any of the foregoing warranties, the undersigned agrees to reimburse whomever brings such claim or action for expenses and attorneys' fees incurred therein.

Self-Archiving

ROMEEO

<http://romeo.eprints.org/>

Database of journals that give the author self-archiving rights.

Science Commons

<http://www.sciencecommons.org/>

Provides copyright transfer agreement addendum that you can use if the publisher doesn't already grant you permission to self-archive.

Institutional Archives

DSpace

<http://www.dspace.org/>

Eprints

<http://www.eprints.org/>

Both support the Open Archives Initiative (OAI) protocol.

- ▶ Only about 20% of articles are self-archived each year.
- ▶ About 94% of peer-reviewed journals already endorse authors self-archiving preprint or postprint versions of their papers.

Why is open access important?

- ▶ Authors—access to the largest possible audience
- ▶ Readers—access to the entire literature
- ▶ Reuse of articles—download, copy, print, archive
- ▶ Full-text searching and mining
